

Biography: Mr. Chiiming Kao

Chiiming Kao, a retired high-tech executive in 2016, now connects with young entrepreneurs and helps them in technical industry. He successfully founded several companies and believes his full cycle of experience can benefit others. Therefore, becoming an objective advisor to those dreamers is a natural fit at retirement.

In addition to staying within the industry, he also volunteers for several non-profit organizations, including Asian Art Museum, League of Women Voters, and others. He strongly believes in giving back to the community.

Chiiming earned his bachelor's and master's degree in physics and a Ph.D. in Electric Engineering. He credits his newfound love in photography at retirement to his in depth understanding of principles of physics and electronics. He now travels to everywhere to capture images of birds from the woods, eagles from the high sky, fish and their predators in the water. The whole wide world is open for him to explore.

Chiiming and his wife, Aileen live in Saratoga for 27 years. They enjoy traveling, watching movies and bicycling with their adult son in San Carlos.
